INDUSTRIAL DRAFTING – VOCATIONAL TRAINING

NATURE OF THE WORK

The Sir Wilfrid Laurier School Board is inviting applications for teachers in Industrial Drafting in its Vocational Training sector.

THE PROGRAM and TASKS

The Industrial Drafting Program is an 1800 hour program focusing on the acquisition of the qualifications needed to enter the labour market;

- develop the skills necessary to determine the information to include on drawings, such as: solve problems related to industrial drafting, taking and interpreting measurements;
- develop the skills necessary to understand manufacturing, such as: interpreting technical information related to materials and manufacturing processes, illustrating the arrangement of components and power train systems;
- develop the skills necessary to interpret, carry out, and correct drawings and to produce sketches, to use specialized functions of a computer-aided drafting program, to produce detail drawings of mechanical components, assembly, mechanisms, piping and circuit diagrams, making three-dimensional drawings and designing a simple technical object;
- develop the necessary skills for multi-disciplinary team work and to integrate into school and work life

COMPETENCIES AND WORKING EXPERIENCE

Candidates should have working experience in the field of industrial drafting.

QUALIFICATIONS REQUIRED

- Hold a Diploma in Vocational Studies in the field
- Following, or planning to follow, a university program leading to a Bachelor of Education in Vocational Studies
